MATRIMONIAL OUTLOOK PUZZLE

Miss Priscilla is investigating the "one I love, two I love" daisy game to learn her fate. She commenced with a complete daisy, and counting around to the right plucked every sixth petal. When she had counted three times around the remaining petals were as shown in the picture. Now who can tell how many petals the flower contained originally?

ANSWER TO FAT BOY PUZZLE. We first see that the three boys together weigh twenty-five bricks. Then we learn that the two little fellows together weigh five bricks more than the fat boy. Therefore we divide twenty-five bricks into two parts, one of which is five bricks less than the other. To do this, first set aside five, bricks out of the twenty-five as 161 P ST. N.W. SECOND STORE, FRONT, $8; the amount the two boys exceed the fat chap. Then divide the remaining twenty bricks into two parts-ten bricks each. Add ten to the five already to the credit of the slim twins, and we have their lump weight as fifteen bricks, while Fatty weighs ten.

If we were lawyers we'd want to be eleverest lawyers in the United States. If we were ditch diggers we'd want to be the best ditch diggers in the ditch. As commercial brokers we are trying mighty hard to be the best. We also have another ambition: We want to be known as the men who sell more business pinces than any other twenty men put together, and before we get through we expect to convince you of that fact. We have our heart in the buyers and sellers. We are in the business to find buyers because it is a pleasure to us. We hope we will never reach that cold-blooded period where it's a case of get the money. Of course, we are after the meney. We are not in business for love; but we want more than just money; we want the satisfaction of having every one who does business with us feel that they have the worth of every dollar they pay us. Our motive may be selfish, but it is the kind of selfishness that does not hurt any one. We put our heart in everything we do, and we say to you when men do that they are irresistible, unconquer-able, unbeatable. Just think of having men like that working for you.
